Kyowa Kirin Announces Changes to its Organization

Tokyo, Japan, December 1, 2023 – Kyowa Kirin Co., Ltd. (President and CEO: Masashi Miyamoto, “Kyowa Kirin”, TSE: 4151) announced that it will make changes to its organization as of January 1, 2024.

Outline of the change:

R&D Division will be reorganized into Research Division and Development Division.

Purpose of the organizational change:

By dividing its Research and Development Division into separate Research and Development divisions and implementing management structures tailored to the attributes of each division, Kyowa Kirin aims to enhance expertise and operational efficiency, while realizing an organization that continuously creates innovative therapies with life-changing value.

Additionally, under the One Kyowa Kirin’s framework, which functions as a matrix organization, Kyowa Kirin will reorganize its research and development functions to establish solid and globally aligned organizational structures. This will accelerate research and development activities, driving Kyowa Kirin towards the achievement of its vision for 2030 and beyond for sustainable growth.
